Patents Act 1977

Combined Search and Examination Report under Sections 17 & 18(3)

Basis of the examination

1. My examination has taken account of the amendments filed with your agent's letter of 28 May 2003.

Allowance of the divisional date

2. Your request that this application be treated as having been filed on 23 February 2000, which is the same date of filing as your earlier application number GB 0004285.3, has been allowed.

Novelty

3. The invention as defined in claim 1 is not new because it has already been disclosed in the following document:

US 4739654 A (Pilkington et al) - see fig 2 and col 4, line 57 to col 6, line 18

4. Furthermore the scope of claim 1 is extremely broad and the above citation is merely an example of many which would anticipate the claim. Most tanks, e.g. a petrol, gas or hot water tank, have an inlet through which fluid is injected to fill the tank and an outlet which may be opened to extract the fluid. A further search will be required at a later stage since it is not possible to predict what is likely to be claimed after amendment.

Clarity and consistency

5. Inconsistencies between claim 1, the title and the description on pages 2-7, 10, 11 and 78-88 should be removed. Also the detailed description should be amended to clearly indicate which figures disclose the housing with the inlet and outlet passages and lie within the scope of the invention.

Non-metric units

6. As agreed in a telephone conversation with your agent, a single equivalent metric value for each of the repeating non-metric values mentioned throughout your specification may be included at the start of the detailed description rather than alongside each of the non-metric values.

Other

7. The US patent application serial numbers should be inserted in the specification on pages 13-16,39,40,43,70 and 71.

Publication

8. Publication of this application is proceeding concurrently.
